

Special Offer for New Society Members
 REDUCED FEES FOR ALL MEMBERSHIP CATEGORIES!

Membership Application (please print carefully)
 or join online at <http://www.apa.org/divapp>

Name _____

Mailing Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Telephone _____

Fax _____

Email Address _____

APA Membership # (if applicable) _____

Membership Categories (check one):

- New Full or Associate.....$27 $15
 (Requires comparable membership status in APA.
 Please be sure to provide your APA Membership #.)
- New Affiliated Professional (Not a member of APA)..... $25 $15
- Limited Means.....$15
- Student Member.....$15

I also want to join the following Sections:

- (check as many as you like)..... $10 Member/$5 Student EACH
- 1. Psychology of Black Women.....$ _____
 - 3. Concerns of Latina/Hispanic Women.....$ _____
 - 4. Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Women's Issues.....$ _____
 - 5. Psychology of Asian Pacific American Women.....$ _____
 - 6. Alaska Native/American Indian/Indigenous Women.....$ _____

Total Amount Included:.....$ _____

I would like to pay the amount due by:

- Check (US dollars payable to Society for the Psychology of Women)
- Visa / MasterCard / American Express (please circle)

Card Number _____

Expiration Date _____

Signature of Cardholder _____

Please send completed application and payment to:
 Division 35 Administrative Office
 American Psychological Association
 750 First Street, NE
 Washington, DC 20002-4242

Membership Information

Regular and Associate Members of the Division must hold comparable status in APA.

Affiliated Members are non-APA members interested in the psychology of women. They have full SPW privileges except for not participating in APA elections or serving on APA boards/committees. Affiliates elect a voting representative to the Executive Committee.

Student Members are enrolled in graduate or undergraduate programs in psychology or related areas. Students elect a representative to the Executive Committee.

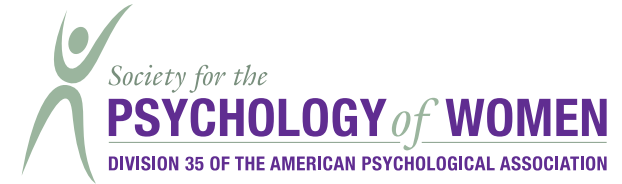

Joint Memberships with AWP and SWAP: If you belong to either the Association for Women in Psychology (AWP) or the Section on Women and Psychology (SWAP) of the Canadian Psychological Association and are joining SPW, you can get a $10 reduction in your dues to both organizations. Just indicate your joint membership on the application/renewal forms. This means that your dues to SPW will continue to be $15 (or $17 for APA members) beyond the first year.

How To Join: To join the Society for the Psychology of Women (SPW), complete the form in this brochure and send it to the SPW Administrative Office with a payment for dues for the current year. Alternatively, you may join SPW online at <http://www.apa.org/divapp>

Membership is for the calendar year. You will receive the next print issue of Psychology of Women Quarterly (PWQ) with instructions to activate free online access to back issues of PWQ and other select Sage journals, pre-published articles, podcasts and videos, and Sage discounts. Visit PWQ online at <http://pwq.sagepub.com>

After the application year, Regular and Associate members will be billed for the regular Division dues ($27) on the annual APA dues statement. Affiliated professional members will be billed $25 and students $15 directly by the Division. Limited means members must request renewal in that category on an annual basis.

Dues support task forces, publications, special projects, and reduced fees for students and people of limited means.

The Society for the Psychology of Women

Division 35 of the American Psychological Association was established in 1973 as the Society for the Psychology of Women.

The Society is an organizational base for all feminists, women and men of all national origins, who are interested in teaching, research, training, practice, and/or advocacy on behalf of women.

The Society recognizes a diversity of women's experiences, which result from a variety of factors, including ethnicity, culture, language, socioeconomic status, ability status, and sexual orientation.

Special Offer for New
Reduced Members

For more information, go to:
<http://www.apadivisions.org/division-35/>
 or email div35@apa.org

Our Purpose

- To promote feminist research, theories, education, and practice toward understanding women in all their diversities
- To encourage scholarship on the social construction of gender relations across multicultural contexts
- To apply feminist scholarship to transforming the knowledge base of psychology and the organizational structure of psychology itself
- To advocate action toward public policies that advance equality and social justice and seek to empower women in community, national, and global leadership

The Value of Membership

SPW assists in securing recognition for feminist psychologists and their work, particularly as it relates to the psychology of women.

All Society members receive the Psychology of Women Quarterly and have access to its website, which includes podcasts, videos, and commentaries.

SPW is an APA-approved sponsor of continuing education. We offer yearly workshops for teachers, scientists, and practitioners prior to the APA Convention and sponsor other CE offerings during the year. Members receive a discount on fees.

Check out our fabulous website and find much more information at <http://www.apadivisions.org/division-35/>

SPW has more than 3,000 members with diverse psychological career interests. You do not have to be a member of APA to join SPW.

Publications provide behavioral and social scientists and practitioners with a means of sharing knowledge and insights about the critical problems of women.

- Psychology of Women Quarterly, a highly respected and widely refereed journal of empirical research and theory. Includes access to Online First and e-issues as well as a 25% discount on all books and journals published by SAGE.
- The Feminist Psychologist Newsletter, a quarterly publication offering news of Division members and activities
- Books on feminist psychology
- POWR-L, an electronic listserv co-sponsored with the Association for Women in Psychology (AWP)

Awards honor contributions to feminist psychology by scholars and promising students.

- AWP/SPW Student Research Prize
- Bonnie Strickland/Jessica Henderson Daniel Mentoring Award
- Carolyn Wood Sherif Memorial Lectureship Award
- Corann Okorodudu International Women's Advocacy Award
- Florence L. Denmark Award for Contributions to Women and Aging
- Florence (Lindy) Geis Memorial Award for Dissertation Research
- Heritage Award
- Janet Shibley Hyde Graduate Student Research Grant Award
- Mary Roth Walsh Teaching the Psychology of Women Award
- Psychotherapy with Women Research Award
- Sue Rosenberg Zalk Distinguished Service Award
- Sandra Schwartz Tangri Memorial Award for Graduate Research
- Carolyn Payton Early Career Award (Sec. 1)
- Psychology of Black Women Graduate Student Award (Sec. 1)
- Student Scholar Hispanic Woman/Latina Award (Sec. 3)
- Laura S. Brown Distinguished Contribution Award (Sec. 4)

Ways to Become Involved

Sections, with separate dues, sponsor activities with SPW and related organizations. Membership is open to anyone.

- Psychology of Black Women
- Concerns of Latina/Hispanic Women
- Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Concerns
- Psychology of Asian Pacific American Women
- Alaska Native/American Indian/Indigenous Women

Committees include those on:

- Adolescent Girls
- Global and International Issues
- Publications
- Reproductive Issues
- Feminist Professional Training and Practice

Task Forces on specific issues are formed each year to promote research on women and formulate policy. Recent task forces include those on:

- Internationalizing the Curriculum
- The Trafficking of Women
- Inclusion of Gender and Sexuality in Graduate Education
- Sizism is Sexism
- Feminist Research as Transformative
- Advancing Feminist Psychological Practice